Question 1: Question 3: We can use states and props that help in updating variable across pages.

Student's Answer:

Answer: Two pages of an old school notebook with writing in blue pen. The first page is only partially visible, and the writing appears to be a shopping list; however, most of the writing is obscured. The main focus of the photo is on the second page, which captures a typed or handwritten page with the text "Why React?" and three bullet points detailing the purpose of React. The individual typing or writing in this note has a particularly fluid writing style.
